Very happy to be part of this. Almost 50 european non governmental organizations and more than 220 individuals are coming together today and tomorrow in Berlin to discuss and address the so called refugee crisis which, ultimately or in the first place, is a crisis of humanity and solidarity. Thank you Johanna Schrf and Dagmar Albrecht and everyone else involved in organizing for making this happen ❤️

#ConAction Conference 2.- 3.Oktober, Estrel Hotel, Berlin

Im Fokus standen die Koordination und der Austausch von ehrenamtlichen Flüchtlingshelfer*innen aus Deutschland, Griechenland, und der Türkei um, unter anderem, würdigere Bedingungen für geflüchtete Menschen an den europäischen Außengrenzen zu schaffen.

Seit 2015 haben mehr als eine Million Menschen ihr Leben über das Mittelmeer zu den Küsten Griechenlands und der Türkei riskiert. Gegenwärtig sind in Griechenland noch immer mehr als 60.000 Flüchtlinge gestrandet und mehr als drei Millionen in der Türkei.

Von Anfang an hat die europäische Zivilgesellschaft Anteilnahme gezeigt und sich organisiert, um zu helfen. Viele weigern sich nach wie vor tatenlos zuzusehen und verdienen es, gehört zu werden.

Auf der ConAction Konferenz sind Vertreter*innen von mehr als 25 internationalen ehrenamtlichen Flüchtlingshilfsorganisationen aus Griechenland, der Türkei und Deutschland in Berlin zusammengekommen. Die Konferenz hat Akteur*innen, die vor Ort humanitäre Hilfe leisten, eine Plattform geben, um im Austausch mit deutschen Hilfsinitiativen gemeinsame politische Ziele sowie konkrete Forderungen zu entwickeln. Wir das Team von #People4people waren im Bereich Individual Case Work eingeteilt und konnten hier u.a. unsere Erfahrungen weitergeben und austauschen.

See you guys soon again ❤️

It was wonderful to spent such anice moments among you .. Thanks alot Johanna Schrf and Dagmar Albrecht for their efforts for organizing the #ConAction conference with their team, keeping fight for refugee's rights in Turkey and Greece with 44 organisations around Europe .. I would like to thank Mhd Zaki Alolabi the great person I have ever met in the shore in Lesvos 2016 and he is now trying to help refugees . And everyone who took part together for One hand ! One goal! .

Sumita Shah Dagmar, Johanna and rest of team... it was an amazing few days of discussion and collaboration with an amazing international group of humanitarians... what a fantastically organised conference with so many different aspects to it... well done to the Conaction Team for putting together a great event and giving grassroots and independents the opportunity to talk and discuss the very many serious aspects of the refugee crisis in Europe. Grassroots and independents have, once again, shown what can be done if only there is the passion and the will.

Thank you Conaction Team ❤️

This week, our team members Fee and Alice took part in the ConAction conference in Berlin, alongside a large number of impressive grassroots initiatives working to address critical gaps in the contemporary European refugee response.

Many thanks to the organisers for an excellent conference, and we look forward to staying in touch with participants and organisers alike, and hope to continue exploring the potential for further collaboration.

Just a quick update about our first day at the ConAction Conference in Berlin. The event organizer and the attendees seemed to have loved our ConAction bracelets. Thanks Montaser AL for coordinating everything with the families. The families, of course, for their hard work. Sophie Bruneau, Sara Abderrahim, Naseeba Tabooshy and the other volunteers who came over to help put each bracelet onto their respective card.

There are over 50 grass roots organizations and NGOs from Greece and Turkey present here. So, we had a quick introduction yesterday about all of the great work that everyone is doing.

We have interacted with many of them over the past couple of years, many of these interactions were online, so now we're putting some faces to the FB messages and emails.

Of course, a huge thanks to Dagmar Albrecht and team for putting all of this together.

Sara Abderrahim and Ayşe Gül were at our table talking to people about our work with the knitting and bracelet programs.

Yesterday, we had a chance to walk around Berlin a bit and we have seen a few shops that we'll try to talk about our products. So, if anybody has any connection here in Berlin, PM me.

We have a full day today 😊

Danke an die tollen Helfer und die Organisatoren der #ConAction Conference!

Wir haben viele interessante Gespräche geführt und neue Kontakte geknüpft.

Und natürlich war auch Zeit, sich mit alten Freunden und Mitstreitern auszutauschen.

In verschiedenen Workshops wurden teilweise sehr spezielle Aspekte der humanitären Arbeit in Griechenland beleuchtet und an Lösungen für bestehende, akute Probleme gearbeitet.

A big thank you for the volunteers and organizers of ConAction conference in Berlin!

We had lots of interesting and inspiring discussions, made new friends and finally met people in person we previously knew only via facebook. And of course there was time to chat with old friends and co-volunteers

In various workshops a whole range of very special aspects of humanitarian work in Greece and Turkey was in the spotlight and solutions to existing, pressing problems were tackled.

Just some words about the ConAction Conference in Berlin from 02. - 04.10.2017 (<https://www.facebook.com/ConActionConference/>) that I want to say:

As it had been announced, the main goal of this conference was EMPOWERMENT of those who help, but there was much more important than this like e.g. being guided through some workshops to learn planning actions more effectually.

Having had the chance to get into touch with so many people, that I already know from FB, the conference was a great experience and the chance to UNITE - for me one of the main goals, and to share the problems that we face in the field with the others, to find solutions together.. To STAY united, this is something that all of us, who have been there, must do ourselves....

I am not the person for lots of selfies, so there are just the downunder photos with Tim, Ana, Dagmar and Johanna.

And I would like you, who is reading these words at the moment, to have a look at the information about the bazaar during the conference:

<http://conaction-conference.com/bazaar/> ,

as well as to the homepage of NAOMI in Thessaloniki (<http://naomi-thessaloniki.net/produkte/>), where refugees already find work, something very important. Maybe you could support these projects by showing your interest in buying some of the nice product which are made by refugees, so that they go on, become known and find emulators.

Thanks for reading - there is much more to report about the conference, for today just these words.

Now I had a bit of time to think about my days at the ConAction Conference. Apart of my horrible travels (and the shitty cold weather in Germany 😊), the conference was absolutely worth to go. Meeting all this lovely souls from all over Europe was more than a pleasure for me. I met people...
... with whom I work since 2 years, but never met in person!
... with whom I work since a few months and finally met (again)!
... with whom I worked in the past and could finally hug again!
... who I got happily known during the conference!
... I would have loved to talk more with, but the time was too less.

Also it reminded me on many other volunteers, who I met during the last 2 years and all together got a big space in my heart and my greatest respect ❤️

We all have many things common:

We believe in humanity!

We are working in this field continously since (over) two years.

We experienced incredible situations – bad, but also good ones!

We can count on each other!

We stick together and keep on moving!

Like Michael Grossenbacher always says: "We are many!"

Together we made a change, we make a change and we will make a change.

❤️ Don't give up ❤️

What a joy to be at ConAction Conference over the last few days, connecting with so many old and new friends who are developing new models of refugee aid!

Together, we can do more!

It was a moment to share practices, tell stories, define values and showcase each other's work.

In Greece, we've worked hard to identify and connect grassroots actors and it is so important to know that across the world there are so many others.

Thank you ConAction for the invitation and bringing us all in the same room!

Last week, Felipe Coimbra, Sarah, Ayşe Gül joined the ConAction conference in Berlin. We were joined by our past volunteers Lisa Groß, Deniz Tuncer, Oliver.

It was a great opportunity to meet many people and groups doing amazing work in Greece and Turkey. In total 50 NGOs and grassroot organizations were present there.

The cost of the trip during the conference was sponsored by the organizers (flight, hotel, meal) We stayed a few extra days to visit some families who moved to Germany since we started our work. Those extra days were paid personally by each of us. So, no ReVi money was spent on the trip and we'll never use our funds for things like that.

Just to be clear with everyone 😊

Thanks to Dagmar Albrecht and team for inviting the ReVi team to Berlin and for putting together such a productive and important meeting.

NEWS – INTERNATIONAL - BAAS at the ConAction Conference

Over the last three days, Be Aware And Share - BAAS has attended the long-awaited ConAction Conference in Berlin. This event brought together more than 50 grassroots organizations, who work from all over Europe to respond to the lack of protection and support for refugees in Greece and Turkey. We presented our project Refugee Education Chios a very productive workshop on education programs and entered into a lot of enriching discussions on how to provide the best educational care for refugee children.

We met a lot of familiar faces, old friends and like-minded spirits. It was very motivating to see how strong everybody is still going and that all our fellow volunteers and organizations are still as determined as on the first day. And more smart and creative people are joining in: we also got to know so many new initiatives and individuals just getting involved and bringing new impulses and ideas to the table.

The conference reassured everybody of the fact that we are many and we are rich in resources and knowledge to be shared, support and empathy to be given and actions to be taken together. We are strong movement.

Our gratitude goes to the whole organizing team of ConAction for creating this wonderful opportunity!
